

Kathryn Bechen Ink

When you're longing for solace for your spirit, Kathryn's e-books, presentations, and professional writing services will bring beauty, order, and inspiration to your life.

Kathryn has had a penchant for beauty, order, and words since she was a young child when she intuitively lined up her shoes in her closet, moved the furniture around her bedroom, read voraciously, and wrote with passion.

Kathryn has used those childhood traits and talents to inform and inspire others as a published writer, seminar leader, speaker, and hands-on office organizer through the company she founded and managed for several years, Organized With Ease. Groups as large as 400 have benefited from her speaking and seminar tips on how to get organized. She later complemented her organizing skills by earning her interior decorating certificate and starting her own online decorating business, Kathryn Bechen Designs.

Kathryn's current company, Kathryn Bechen Ink, is the culmination of all of her previous work and allows her to follow her first love—writing. She now writes full-time about “anything positive and pretty”—home and garden, weddings, and getting organized. Generous and encouraging to others by nature, she also teaches creative business owners “do-it-yourself” tips for getting free publicity via her personalized phone consultations.

Kathryn's Christian faith is gently woven throughout all of her work, and her true personal story, Jesus Held Me in His Arms, will be published soon by the leading inspirational publisher, GuidepostsBooks, in their book, Miracles and Mysterious Visitors.

Kathryn has been interviewed by and featured in San Diego Home & Garden Lifestyles magazine, RealtyTimes.com, Omaha World Herald, Midlands Business Journal, Dayton Business Journal, and others. She has also been interviewed on radio and television about her organizing expertise. In addition, her articles and poems on decorating and organizing have been published in newspapers, newsletters, magazines, and across the internet.
